

Federation of European Biochemical Societies

<http://www.febs.org>

A Federation of the Societies of Biochemistry and Molecular Biology in Armenia, Austria, Azerbaijan, Belarus, Belgium, Bulgaria, Croatia, Cyprus, Czech Republic, Denmark, Estonia, Finland, FYROM, France, Georgia, Germany, Great Britain, Greece, Hungary, Iceland, Ireland, Israel, Italy, Latvia, Lithuania, Moldova, the Netherlands, Norway, Morocco, Poland, Portugal, Romania, Russia, Slovak Republic, Slovenia, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Turkey, Tunisia, Ukraine, Yugoslavia.

With more than 40,000 members distributed between 36 Constituent and six Associated Societies, the Federation of European Biochemical Societies (FEBS) is one of the largest organisations in European life sciences today.

Our primary goal is to promote and develop basic research and education in biochemistry, molecular cell biology, and molecular biophysics throughout Europe.

For four decades, the active FEBS programme has included advanced courses, fellowships, publications and annual meetings, as well as a scientific apparatus recycling scheme (SARS). In addition, FEBS has several committees and working groups, which play an active role in carrying out the vision of FEBS. Finally, in order to further support European science, FEBS is a co-founder and member of the European Life Sciences Forum (ELSF).

The following pages contain an outline of the various activities mentioned above. For detailed information on our activity portfolio, member societies, organisational structure etc., please consult our website www.febs.org.

ADVANCED COURSES :

- Local Lecture and Practical Courses are available for as few as 15 residential guests, and up to 200 attendees.
- Two High Level Practical Courses within Central and Eastern Europe are supported to further science in these countries.

For full information about the FEBS Advanced Courses please see the FEBS website.

Applications to attend individual Advanced Courses should be made directly to each course organiser. Applications for organising a course should reach the Chairman of the Courses Committee, Prof. Karel W.A. Wirtz, Centre for Biomembranes and Lipid Enzymology, Dept. Biochemistry of Lipids, Utrecht University, P.O. Box 80.054, 3508 TB Utrecht, the Netherlands. Tel.: (+31) 30 2532 546/253 3443; Fax: (+31) 30 2533 151; E-mail: k.w.a.wirtz@chem.uu.nl, at least one year prior to the intended start date of the course. Deadlines for submission of applications are set for the end of February and/or August.

FEBS will also co-sponsor courses supported by other grant-giving institutions, e.g. European Molecular Biology Organization (EMBO), and International Union of Biochemistry and Molecular Biology (IUBMB).

Young scientists who wish to attend courses outside of their own country may apply for Youth Travel Funds.

FELLOWSHIPS :

1. Long-term Fellowships in a country outside your own are available to facilitate mobility, collaboration and exchange of information. Each fellowship is for a 1-year term and may be renewed for two additional years. Long-term fellowships are awarded twice per year. Applications should be sent to the Chairman of the Fellowships Committee prior to April 1 or October 1 of the corresponding year. Retrospective applications cannot be considered.
2. Short-term Fellowships are offered to support scientific collaboration between members of FEBS Constituent and Associated Societies. This fellowship lasts no longer than 2 months. Applications should reach the Chairman of the Fellowships Committee at least two months before the proposed starting date.
3. Summer Fellowships are available to young scientists for travel to institutions outside their own country for short-term research projects. Applications should reach the Chairman of the Fellowships Committee before April 1 each year.
4. Collaborative Experimental Scholarships are open to Central and Eastern European students currently completing their doctoral thesis. These funds are intended to allow visits to well-founded laboratories for the completion of experimental procedures that are either impossible to do, or difficult to carry out, in their home country.

Fellowship applications should reach the Chairman of the Fellowships Committee, Prof. Maciej Nalecz, UNESCO, S/BES, B329, 1 rue Miollis, 75015 Paris, France. Tel.: (+33) 145 683 930; Fax: (+33) 145 685 821; E-mail: m.nalecz@unesco.org, at least two months before the proposed starting date. Retrospective applications cannot be considered.

PUBLICATIONS :

- The activities of FEBS would not be possible without your continued support of and publication in the two FEBS journals European Journal of Biochemistry (EJB) and FEBS Letters. Both are available electronically, indexed through the various indexing services, and peer reviewed.

- EJB (www.ejbiochem.com) exists to publish original papers on fundamental aspects of biochemistry, molecular and cell biology and molecular biophysics. To secure acceptance, a paper must report a new phenomenon, unravel a new molecular mechanism, throw new light on an old observation, raise an important new concept, or report a new method of widespread interest. E-mail: ejb@camfebs.co.uk.
- FEBS Letters (www.febsletters.org) has – since its inception in July 1968 – published concise reports in biochemistry, biophysics and molecular cell biology where the over-riding criterion is that the communication must be of sufficient immediate importance to the work of other investigators to merit urgent publication. E-mail: febs.letters@urz.uni-heidelberg.de.
- FEBS NewsLetter provides information on activities sponsored by FEBS, news from the European scientific community, as well as member-related announcements (available jobs, post-docs, grants, fellowships, etc.). To subscribe to FEBS NewsLetter, simply fill out the e-submission form available on our website, or send an e-mail to newsletter@febs.org stating 'subscribe' in the subject line. All back issues of FEBS NewsLetter can be found on-line at www.febs.org.

ANNUAL CONGRESSES AND SPECIAL MEETINGS :

One of the ways in which FEBS seeks to promote high-quality science is by having an annual Congress that provides a forum for knowledge exchange. Each year a different member country of the Federation hosts this Congress. Bursaries are available to assist young scientists to attend these Congresses.

- In 2004 the 29th FEBS Annual Congress will be held in Poland on June 26–July 1. Detailed information is available on www.febs2004.pl. For additional information please contact: The Organizing Committee FEBS Congress 2004, Polish Biochemical Society Pasteura 3, 02-093 Warszawa, Poland; Tel.: (+48) (22) 823 71 89; Fax: (+48) (22) 822 53 42; E-mail: info@febs2004.pl.
- In 2005 the joint 30th FEBS Congress/9th IUBMB Conference will take place in Hungary on July 2–7. Detailed information is available on www.febs-iubmb-2005.com. For additional information please contact: Chemol Travel Congress Department; Mailing address: H-1366 Budapest, P.O. Box 28, Hungary. Street address: H-1052 Budapest, Deák Ferenc str. 10, Hungary. Tel: (+36) 1266 7032, Fax: (+36) 1266 7033; E-mail: incoming@chemoltravel.hu.

Should you have any questions regarding a FEBS Congress, please contact the FEBS Meeting Counsellor, Prof. J. Guinovart, Departament de Bioquímica y Biología Molecular, Universitat de Barcelona, Martí I Franques, 1, E-08028 Barcelona, Spain. Tel.: (+34) 934 021 206; Fax: (+34) 934 021 219; E-mail: guino@sun.bq.ub.es.

SCIENTIFIC APPARATUS RECYCLING SCHEME :

In order to support fellow colleagues in Central and Eastern Europe, FEBS distributes surplus research materials and instruments via a specialised programme: Scientific Apparatus Recycling Scheme (SARS).

Offers of donations and information on current holdings can be obtained from Prof. P. N. Campbell, SARS, Dept. Biochemistry and Molecular Biology, UCL, Gower Street London, WC1E 6BT, UK, Tel.: +44 (0) 20-7679-2169; Fax: +44 (0) 20-7679-7193; E-mail: p.campbell@biochemistry.ucl.ac.uk.

FEBS COMMITTEES AND WORKING GROUPS :

In addition to Council and the Executive Committee, FEBS currently has 4 Committees and 6 Working Groups:

- Advanced Courses Committee, Chaired by K. W. A. Wirtz, E-mail: k.w.a.wirtz@chem.uu.nl.
 - Fellowships Committee, Chaired by M. Nalecz, E-mail: m.nalecz@unesco.org.
 - Publications Committee, Chaired by W. Stalmans, E-mail: Willy.Stalmans@med.kuleuven.ac.be.
 - Science and Society Committee, Chaired by Federico Mayor, E-mail: fmayor@fund-culturadepaz.org.
- The Working Groups are:
- Working Group on Young Scientists' Careers, Chaired by M. Makarow, E-mail: makarow@Operoni.helsinki.fi.
 - Working Group on Women in Science (WISE), Chaired by S. Rogne, E-mail: sissel.rogne@bion.no.
 - Working Group on Education in Biochemistry, Chaired by J. Wallach, E-mail: Jean.Wallach@univ-lyon1.fr.
 - Working Group on Ways to Improve Assistance to Central and Eastern European Countries (WOGA), Chaired by G. Dirheimer, E-mail: guy.dirheimer.febs@wanadoo.fr.
 - Working Group on FEBS Future Financial Structure, Chaired by I. Mowbray, E-mail: j.mowbray@ucl.ac.uk.
 - Working Group on The European Research Area (ERA), Chaired by J.E. Celis, E-mail: jec@cancer.dk.

EUROPEAN LIFE SCIENCES FORUM (ELSF) :

To support and advance European science, FEBS has joined with other organisations to establish the European Life Sciences Forum (ELSF). The mission of ELSF (www.elsf.org) is to enable the European Community to speak with a unified voice and to take joint action on matters of common interest. In the past year ELSF has organised three large-scale meetings addressing the perspectives in establishing a European Research Council (ERC). The president of ELSF is the Secretary General of FEBS, Julio E. Celis (Copenhagen, Denmark), and the Executive Coordinator of ELSF is Luc van Dyck (Heidelberg, Germany).

FEBS CONTACT INFORMATION :

Should you need specific information or have any questions about FEBS, you are always welcome to contact the FEBS Secretariat in Copenhagen (Denmark). Here you will be able to reach:

Julio E. Celis, Secretary General of FEBS, Tel.: (+45) 352 573 63; Fax: (+45) 352 573 76; E-mail: jec@cancer.dk.

Inge Detlefsen, FEBS Secretary, Tel.: (+45) 352 573 64; Fax: (+45) 352 573 76; E-mail: secretariat@febs.org, and Camilla Krogh Lauritzen, Information Manager, Editor of FEBS NewsLetter, Tel: (+45) 352 573 11; Fax: (+45) 352 573 66; E-mail: camilla@febs.org.
